IT WAS NOT CROUCH

Tom Allison Believed Now to Have Been Drowned Here.

He Came to Paducah to Become Second Engineer on the Clyde-Last Seen Going Toward the Boat.

RAY CROUCH ALIVE AND WELL

From Saturday's Daily.

Coroner Peal believes he has found out to a certainty who the unknown Clyde Tuesday night. The theory that it was Ray Crouch, second mate on the steamer Charleston, proved erroneous, as his father, Captain J. A. Crouch, telegraphed yesterday afternoon that the young man was alive and well at Pittsburg Landing, Ten-

Yesterday Coroner Peal was informed that the unfortunate victim was in all probability Tom Allison, who came here to go on the Clyde as cond engineer. He made an investigation, resulting in the disclosure of facts that convinced him that Allison

W How the United States Government Dozier, of the Clyde. Allison stopped at Mrs. Phil Best's boarding house on South Second street, and was there early in the evening on Tuesday, having and not returning again ustil later in the night, when he was betin in Mr. David Kennedy, Mrs. Best's sor. Some time during the night he left again, however, and did not come down for breakfast. This is all that Mrs. Best could tell of him, but from Mr. Marion Clark, bartender at the Childham and Carriton and on the home for regulars is under the management of a board of army officers, with Gen. Miles as president. There are in addition to the national soldiers' homes at Washington. Mrs. Best could the Mr. Marion Clark, bartender at the Griffith and Garritson saloon, on South Third street, near Broadway, comes a story that will shed more light on the matter. Allison can elight on the saloon Tuesday night about into the saloo o'clock intoxicated, and wanted to be directed to the Best boarding house. Mr. Clark gave him the desired information, but Allison did not leave, but slept in a chair until about 12 o'clock, when the saloon was closed. Conductor Atwood of the N., C. and St. L., was with Mr. Clark, and both tried to get Allison to go to the boarding house, which he refused to do, saying that he had to go out on the Clyde Wednesday, and would go thers. He started down Third street towards Broadway, and turned towards the river, and this is the last seen of him. The unknown man, according to Mate Barnes of the Fowler, was drowned at 12:25 o'clock. The next day, when Mr. Clark read the account of the man drowned at the wharf, he felt certain that Allison was the victim. Mrs. Design, wife, of his cousin, said. certain that Allison was the victim. Mrs. Dozier, wife of his cousin, said that Allison had come to the Henne berger house about 11 o'clock drunk, but left immediately, and this is the

He lived at Kingston, East Tennessee, but had been running on the Ohio for some time. He had a brother, Mr. Ab Allison, also an engineer, and both stopped at the Best house when in the Nothing whatever has been heard of the missing man since he left the Garritson saloou, and the supposition is that he went to the boat and feli overboard.

MAKING MONEY

Is not as important an item as saving money. Russell Sage says: "One should save at least onefourth of his income." How many of us do it? If we did so we would have a good surplus when the rainy day comes.
